Synopsis

Christians in the Middle East are fleeing their homes or dying at the hand of Islamists creating the very real possibility of a successful faith-based holocaust. The implications of such an outcome for the region and the world are stark: a very fanatical militarized Islamist region that soon might be armed with nuclear weapons to threaten the world with atomic terrorism and the same insidious conditions that promote Christian genocide there could spread to America. Reversing this very serious threat must be the top priority for Middle East governments and their populations, the so-called moderate Muslim world, Western governments already frightened by rising Islamist threats and a genuine global response by Christians to rise-up around a doctrine that combines moral, civic and Christian virtue as the guiding light of future political and Christian social action in the Middle East.There are plenty of clues in God’s word about the geopolitical clashes of culture and religion seen today and on close examination there are a host of indicators that suggest, yes, events are building to an apocalyptic crescendo. It appears that the last days are rapidly approaching.The evidence contained in NEVER SUBMIT ultimately demands a clarion call for people across the world to launch a campaign that not only saves Middle East Christians from genocide but also saves the rest of the world from Islamic extremists. That campaign is called "Never Submit," a response to Islam defined as "submission" and to Islamists who give Middle East Christians three choices: leave, convert or die. The "Never Submit" campaign calls on Christian statesman across the world to rise up and lead fellow believers and the community of nations in a righteous way to eliminate the threat posed by Islamic extremism and to call all people to include pragmatic Muslims to moral accountability and action.

Americans need to get educated on what's happening with the GENOCIDE of Christians well underway in the Middle East. Today's headline "Look Who Just Pledged $32 Billion To Promote Islam And Sharia Law In America" and "Saudi king showered Obamas with $1.3 million in gifts in 2014" is just one example of what's happening as Americans continue to allow their sport and entertainment programs to distract and blind them from the growing danger. This book does a good job of educating the reader from all angles of what we're facing here in the U.S. This matter is of great urgency that Americans need to begin addressing.

I'm half way through reading it and I,m already confident about the content quality. It is definitly very close to what I wanted to read at this time and it is relevant to the times. Thanks to Robert Maginnis.
