Customer Reviews

I will begin by saying that I have been a fan of the WWE for nearly twenty-five years. As a youngster, I remember watching events such as WrestleMania VIII and Summer Slam 1992 live on pay-per-view. Growing up, Mr. Perfect and Jake "The Snake" Roberts were my all time favorite WWE Superstars. Mr. Perfect was the best in the business at selling his opponents. He would do a backflip after taking a right hook. I also loved the Perfect Plex. Jake Roberts was the storyteller. You look into that man's black eyes, and you believe that you are looking into the face of an emotionless shark. Nobody used in ring psychology, telling a story and playing with the audience, like Jake. Who can ever forget the first time they had ever seen the devastating DDT? The big question is, can there really be a definitive list of 100 greatest matches in the history of the WWE? The creation of such a list is extremely subjective. If 100 people are asked to make such a list, you would get 100 completely different lists. Therefore, I will not critique this product based on what matches I, personally, think should be in there or what order they should be in. For the record, every match in this book deserves to be in here. Instead, I will offer a review based on what this book offers. I will critique every aspect of this publication as is presented. This beautiful hardcover volume is presented in a highly aesthetic fashion. The cover, itself, has a glossy finish to it, making the cover art literally jump off of the book as light shines on it. Moments from classic and contemporary WWE matches were chosen as the cover illustration. Such superstars as Bret "Hit Man" Hart, Shawn Michaels, The Rock, "Stone Cold" Steve Austin, The Undertaker, John Cena, Bayley, and "The Boss" Sasha Banks grace the cover.
